

Object pronouns teaching sheet

Look at these sentences:

Mix up the six foxes. Put them in their boxes.

Who / what do we put in their boxes?

The six foxes.

We could say "Mix up the six foxes. Put the six foxes in their boxes" but that is too many words! So:

Mix up the six foxes. Put them in their boxes.

Look at these sentences:

What a pleasure to find the treasure in Asia. Is it on television?

What does it mean?

The treasure.

What a pleasure to find the treasure in Asia. Is it on television?

Look at these sentences:

This is my big sister. I really like her. (who is 'her'?)

This is my little brother. I quite like him. (who is 'him'?)

They like me too. (who is 'me'?)

Subject pronoun	Object pronoun
I	me
you	you
she	her
he	him
it	it
we	us
you	you
they	them

Which are the same in subject and object form?

Which are the most different?